Remarks

Under contract-accepting backup offers. Virtually Staged. Own an authentic log home in Bushnell built from top-tier materials, not a rustic weekend getaway. This roughly 2000+ square-foot home was custom built by the current owner, with exterior logs and framing supplied by Hochstetler Log Homes of Loudonville, OH - an Amish-crafted log home company known for true post-and-beam construction and premium-grade materials rather than a standard production build. That solid-log construction isn't just for looks: solid log homes performed better in energy efficiency than stick-framed homes despite having less R-value, thanks to the way logs store and release heat through thermal mass, and that same solid construction tends to hold up better against severe weather over the long haul. Inside, the 2-story great room centers on a brick wood-burning fireplace, with cypress ceilings, hard red pine flooring, and tongue-and-groove pine walls giving every room genuine log home character, while the layout itself - 3 bedrooms, 2.5 baths, a den, and 2 upstairs loft rooms - lives like a fully modern home. The primary suite's ensuite bath was recently remodeled with a jetted corner tub and separate shower. The metal roof, well and septic, and water filtration/softening system were
